This Week in History

On October 24, 1945, the United Nations officially began, with countries promising to work together for peace.

Fun Fact

Honey almost never spoils. Honey from ancient Egyptian tombs was still safe to eat.

A Rare Viking Coin Becomes a National Treasure

It is one of fewer than 20 coins ever found from King Olaf II

Archaeologists in Norway have a new national treasure, and it fits in your hand. Among a hoard of about 5,500 coins from the Viking Age, they spotted one special piece: a coin minted under King Olaf II.

Fewer than 20 of King Olaf II's coins have ever been found, so this one is rare. A hoard is a stash of valuables hidden long ago. For a Viking, a pouch of silver was like a savings account buried in the ground.

Now Norway has named the coin a national treasure, which helps protect it. Every old coin holds clues about who ruled and who traded.

Tech Corner: Folding Paper, Building the Future

Origami is the art of folding paper, and engineers borrow its tricks. The James Webb Space Telescope was folded origami-style to fit inside a rocket. Kirigami, which adds cuts, inspired shoe soles that change shape for better grip. One middle schooler found a fold that holds 9,000 times its own weight.

WORD OF THE DAY

hoard
noun

a big collection of treasure saved up or hidden away
"A squirrel hides a hoard of acorns."

Daily Sudoku

		4	2

How to play: Fill each empty square with 1, 2, 3 or 4. Every row, every column and every thick-lined box of four squares must have 1, 2, 3 and 4, each one time. Tip: look for a row, column or box with only one empty square, and fill in the number that's missing.

Answer, row by row: 3142 / 2413 / 1324 / 4231
