The Circus Flips Into Detroit This Weekend

Acrobats, a bike troupe and a robot pup take over Little Caesars Arena through Sunday

The circus is in town! Ringling Bros. and Barnum & Bailey's "The Greatest Show On Earth" is at Little Caesars Arena in Detroit this weekend. Shows are Saturday at 11 a.m., 3 p.m. and 7 p.m., and Sunday at 11 a.m. and 3 p.m.

The two-hour show is all about amazing people. Performers jump rope on the giant spinning Double Wheel of Destiny. Trapeze artists swing high above the floor, a bicycle team zooms around at top speed, and Mongolian acrobats build human pyramids. A Latin dance group even mixes salsa moves with flips.

Younger fans can look for Bailey the Robo Pup, and a Hype Crew warms up the crowd with music before each show. For now, kids' tickets are $20 at Ringling.com and 313Presents.com.

Tech Corner: A Robot Frog Swims on Light

Engineers at Aarhus University in Denmark built a soft silicone frog with six artificial muscles. When a special light shines on them, the muscles warm up and squeeze. When they cool, they relax. The muscles have to squeeze in the right order, or the frog just spins in circles! It is slow, about three inches in two minutes. Someday robots like it could help with search and rescue.
