Detroit's Big Thanksgiving Parade Turns 100!

America's Thanksgiving Parade marches down Woodward Avenue on November 26 for its 100th birthday

Get ready for a birthday party with floats! America's Thanksgiving Parade in downtown Detroit is turning 100. The big celebration is Thursday, Nov. 26, on Thanksgiving morning along Woodward Avenue.

Dan Gilbert, founder and chairman of Rocket Companies, is the Grand Marshal. The Parade Company held a fireworks show over the Detroit River on June 22 to mark the milestone.

Can't make it downtown? Watch live on WDIV Local 4 or stream it at clickondetroit.com. Grandstand seats cost $60 to $70.

Long ago in what is now western Turkey, a dog walked across a wet mud brick, and its paw prints hardened right into it. Archaeologists found the brick in the rubble of a burned Bronze Age house.

Spiders May Sleep and Dream Like Us

Scientists report that a jumping spider species slips into a deep sleep that looks a lot like the dreaming stage of human sleep, called REM. Researchers watched the little spiders twitch their legs while they rested. Nobody can say for sure that spiders dream.
